

Position Description

For the Period through June 30, 2008

NAME:
RANK: Assistant/Associate Professor
Department/Division: Surgery/Ophthalmology

GENERAL DUTIES:

This person will function as a member of the Department of Surgery in the Division of Ophthalmology and will report to the Chairman of Ophthalmology and to the Department Chairman.

CHARACTERISTIC DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

TIME COMMITMENT

- | | |
|--|------------|
| I. Administration | 5% |
| A. Provide expertise for trends in future development of retinal surgery and implement new programs where appropriate for the mission of the School and affiliated hospitals. | |
| B. Assess manpower needs of the region for ophthalmologists and plan and develop appropriate educational programs to meet these needs including undergraduate, postgraduate, and continuing medical education. | |
| II. Teaching | 15% |
| A. Work with faculty to develop educational objectives, curriculum content and delivery, and assessment for undergraduate medical education in the area of Ophthalmology. | |
| B. Assist in the planning and implementation, if needed, of a program in retinal surgery. | |
| C. Organize and conduct continuing education in areas of retinal surgery. | |
| D. Represent Ophthalmology in educational planning throughout the School. | |
| E. Serve on educational committees where appropriate within the School of Medicine. | |
| III. Research | 15% |
| A. Recommend areas and programs of research in Ophthalmology appropriate to the needs of the faculty and mission of the Division. | |
| B. Provide an exemplary role model as an investigator for students, residents and faculty. | |

IV. Service

65%

- A. Provide a role model for students and residents by maintaining a practice of high quality in retinal surgery.
- B. Provide consultative and/or diagnostic service to house staff and other physicians.
- C. Participate in assigned Departmental, Medical School and Hospital committees.