

ASPECTS receives five awards!

Graduates and alumni weren't the only ones getting honored this summer. We here at "Team ASPECTS" received a few accolades for our work.

Editor Karen Carlson won two awards for her profile article of Dr. Richard Moy, the School of Medicine's first dean (Vol.28, No. 3). The Awards for Publication Excellence (APEX) recognized her writing, as did The Master Communicator Awards.

Photographer James Hawker won an Award of Achievement from The Master Communicator Awards for his series of photographs in ASPECTS, "1,000 Words." APEX honored the "Spirit Flowers" photograph seen in "Healing Body and Spirit" article in the Vol. 28,

No. 1 issue.

Carlson and Hawker shared an Award of Merit from the Master Communicator Awards for producing ASPECTS.

The APEX Awards for Publication Excellence is an international competition sponsored by Communication Concepts Inc., of Springfield, Va., that recognizes outstanding publications and other media.

The Master Communicator annual awards program recognizes excellence among professional communicators in central Illinois. This distinguished program is co-sponsored by the Association for Women in Communications chapters in Bloomington–Normal and Springfield, and the Central Illinois Public Relations Society of America.
