Prenatal Care for Incarcerated Women

Robert M. Abrams, MD, MBA

Robert Abrams, MD, is the director of obstetrics for the South Central Illinois Perinatal Center. He is also executive director and professor of Maternal-Fetal Medicine at SIU School of Medicine. He has been director of obstetrical ultrasound for SIU since his arrival in 2007. Because of his interest in academics, he is an active member on the admissions committee for SIU School of Medicine and has received the APGO Excellence in Teaching Award.

Those participating in this activity will be able to:

- Identify challenges and barriers to providing prenatal care in prison.
- Assess obstetrical outcomes of incarcerated patients when compared to non-incarcerated women.
- Demonstrate understanding of the benefits of newborn care with incarcerated women.

Disclosures:

None of the speakers, planners, or course directors have any relevant financial relationships with ineligible companies to disclose.
